

Condolences

Franz BAUM (GER)

We were greatly saddened to learn of the passing of Franz BAUM on 17 February 2010 at the age of 83. Franz was the German national archery coach from 1972 to 1991.

Born in 1927, Franz BAUM joined the shooting and archery club of Alfdorf bei Welzheim (GER) in 1960, of which he became president four years later. Archery was to become the centre of his life. After his club showed great results at the national level, Franz BAUM was named German national coach in 1972. He occupied this position until his retirement in 1991. Under his supervision, the German archers were very successful, winning several European and world titles as well as two Olympic medals. Franz BAUM was also the organiser of many Grand Prix tournaments, including the Tournament of Nations in Welzheim which was the test event of the first ever Olympic Round.

Franz BAUM was decorated with the Order of Merit of the Federal Republic of Germany and received a Bronze Plaque from FITA in 1999 for his contribution to archery. All the FITA community mourns his loss and extend their condolences to his family and friends.

World Archery Plan Update

The FITA staff met to discuss the next steps of the World Archery Plan. Seeing the momentum that the World Archery Plan created at the 2009 Congress, and the excitement and dedication to the Plan showcased by the Member Associations, the whole FITA staff is as motivated as ever to delve into the next Targets of the Plan.

At the 2009 Congress, the delegates saw the great achievements reached since the Plan's launch in 2007. Among the many World Archery Plan achievements was the launch of the new 'World Archery' brand – the primary aim of Target 2007: Identity. The new brand, supported by a new logo, aims at unifying all activities, events, and members of FITA under one brand name that will be centrally promoted by FITA and its Member Associations - a first for an international federation!

Indoor World Archery Challenge
20 February 2010

Target 2008: Events focused on improving Archery's international events by differentiating Recurve and Compound competitions. The event entertainment, the role of prize money, and the format/structure of the Archery Rule Books were discussed, with the aim of making both Recurve and Compound events even stronger.

These first two Targets focused on improving the core of the FITA organisation. As we move into the next Targets, focus shifts to strengthening the external promotion of the World Archery brand to the public, media and partners. As the plan moves forward to the next three targets that will be completed between now and 2012, the core philosophy is to integrate a mentality of promotion into everything that happens in World Archery. As the Plan moves closer to 2012, the remaining three Targets are the following:

At the meeting last week, the FITA staff discussed in detail Target 2009-2010: Promotion. There are five different areas of promotion that the World Archery Plan will focus on: Centralised marketing, local and national promotion of events, non-sporting events, media relations and interaction with the media. Ensuring the World Archery brand is consistently promoted and widely recognised by all external partners is the goal. Target objectives are projected to be completed by mid-year 2010 when the next Target will then get underway.

Commenting on the future of the World Archery Plan, FITA Secretary General Tom DIELEN said: "The World Archery Plan is without a doubt continuing to move our sport in a new and better direction. With the combination of achieving our promotional and marketing objectives and launching Target 2010-2011: Partnerships, it appears 2010 is going to be another exciting year for FITA!"

Working groups will now take the feedback from the Congress and the Staff Meeting and deliver new ideas for the World Archery Plan Steering Group. The ideas and concepts developed by FITA's Working Groups have been the foundation for previous World Archery Plan achievements, and Target 2009-2010's Working Groups look to continue that momentum. All those interested in creating new ideas that can positively impact the growth and recognition for the sport can become a part of a Working Group by contacting FITA headquarters.

World Cup Prize Money

World Archery published the figures and statistics on the prize money won since the World Cup circuit was launched in 2006. With 34,500 USD each Jamie VAN NATTA (USA) and Sofia GONCHAROVA (RUS) are the biggest winners. Please note that these amounts do not include the extra prize money given directly by the archery manufacturers which adds approximately another 30-40%.

The World Cup circuit consists of four stages held every year throughout the world, and a Final in an historical or high profile venue. During the four stages of the World Cup, the first three archers of both divisions (compound and recurve) receive prize money. At the Archery World Cup Final, prizes are offered to the first four archers.

Amounts (USD) won (2006 to 2009)

In terms of amounts won, Russia's Sofia GONCHAROVA, who won the Cup in 2006 and placed 2nd in 2007, shares the top position with Jamie VAN NATTA (USA). These archers won USD 34,500 each throughout the twenty events held during the past four years. In the World Cup Final, VAN NATTA was 4th in 2006, 3rd in 2007 and finally won in 2008!

Jorge JIMENEZ (ESA) comes third with USD 33,750. The Salvadorian won the Cup in 2007. The 2009 World Cup Final winner in Compound Men Sergio PAGNI (ITA) won USD 29,000, while Braden GELLENTHIEN earned USD 26,500, despite the fact that he never won the World Cup Final. However, Braden has won numerous stages and ranked 2nd in the Final in 2007 and 2009. Another compound archer, Luzmary GUEDEZ (VEN), appeared on 6th place tied with the first recurve archer, Baljinima TSYREMPILOV (RUS), with 24,000 USD. In total 32 archers have won USD 10,000 or more!

The highest amount that athletes can receive is USD 20,000 for a win at the Archery World Cup Final, while silver medallists win USD 10,000 and bronze medallists USD 5,000. The fourth ranked archer wins USD 1,000.

In the World Cup Stages the amounts to be won are USD 2,000 for the first place, USD 1,000 for the second place. In 2006, the third place was awarded USD 250. This amount was raised to USD 500 in 2007 and for the following years.

Development

The President Founder of the Fédération Guinéenne de Tir à l'Arc honoured

In Guinea, eight years ago, a group of journalists entitled SPORT PLUS started to grant the annual Golden NIMBA award. It rewards, among others, the best sport administrators. In 2010 among the three recipients was Mrs Aïssatou Thiam SYLLA, President of the "Fédération Guinéenne de Tir à l'Arc".

Aïssatou is a former member of the national basketball team who completed secretarial studies. Her reputation as an athlete led her to work in the office of the Ministry of Youth and Sports as the Social Secretary of the Minister.

"At the time, the environment of Guinean sport administrators was mainly a male environment; women had to impose themselves rather than try to be accepted" she recalls. The leaders of the Taekwondo Federation asked her to collaborate with them. She gave up that activity after she discovered that this solicitation was only due to gender equity requirements. Later on, she watched a report on archery on national television and decided to get involved in our sport.

Along with some friends and the assistance of her National Olympic Committee, she created the "Fédération Guinéenne de Tir à l'Arc" and engaged in development activities. She travelled to the 2008 African Archery Championship to understand how tournaments are organised, and took part in a coaching course at the FITA Middle East Archery Centre (MEAC) in Cairo (photo).

A lot of things changed in Aïssatou's life. She is no longer called by her husband's name, but "Mrs President". People ask her for advice or even support, or to solve problems of the Ministry. She was offered the head position in the Central Secretary of the Ministry of Youth and Sports.

Then she was appointed responsible for missions in the Department of Foreign Affairs. With these new responsibilities, she was entitled to seat at the Ministry's Board chaired by the Minister, with the right to discuss any subject on the agenda.

Meanwhile the young Guinean archery federation received the assistance of the Olympic Solidarity with a "Development of the National Sport Structure" programme. It was implemented from 20 October to 25 November 2007 in four Guinean regions and allowed to train Level 1 coaches and archery equipment makers. When the closing ceremony of this program was broadcasted on TV, Aïssatou was discovered by the UNICEF and received support from this prestigious organisation. All this gave a boost to the "Fédération Guinéenne de Tir à l'Arc" and generated a good national exposure for archery.

Among her other development activities, Aïssatou is very dedicated to promoting the number and the position of girls and women at all levels of the Fédération Guinéenne de Tir à l'Arc, because many of them quit the sport too often and too soon. FITA congratulates Mrs President for her great effort and wishes her the best for the future.

Para-Archery in Dominican Republic

Since November 2009 the National Paralympic Committee of the Dominican Republic is being set up with the assistance of the Dominican Archery Federation. This latest is already allowed to develop archery among the deaf population and the physically disabled people (in a wheelchair, amputees...) in order to prepare the first "Para National Games" in September 2010, that will include five sports: athletics, chess, basketball, volleyball, boccia and of course, archery.

The first camp for deaf children, jointly organised by the Dominican Archery Federation and the Hearing Impaired National Association, was held in January. Every Wednesday and Friday 130 hearing impaired youngsters met at the Olympic Center in Santo Domingo, to train in track and field, basketball, volleyball and archery. Their age range went from 9 through 20 years old; all of them were hearing impaired and some also had another disability. They were trained in recurve bow and it will depend on their ability to manage such a bow before they will be introduced to the compound bow.

This initiative has been so successful that other groups with hearing disabilities have asked for regular archery classes. As a consequence, it was decided to schedule such archery sessions for physically disabled persons twice a week starting in March. The archery coaches are Ludys TEJADA, who has been working with deaf dumb persons for the past three years as a volunteer, and Juan FUENTES, who has experience in teaching archery to the physically impaired.

The Dominican Archery Federation considers this new challenge an opportunity to widen the archery practice in the Dominican Republic. The main objective is to offer the hearing impaired the chance to train until they are high performance athletes, while in parallel deaf coaches will be trained.

Ludys TEJADA commented: "We have discovered that it is not an easy challenge, and even though the road is long and steep, we have found many people that are willing to give a helping hand with this group of young people, and together we are forming new athletes but, above all, we are helping them grow as people who can achieve their goals".

Development in Algeria

The second edition of the Indoor Golden Arrow took place in Blida, Algeria, and was attended several archers from various regions of the country. The host region, the Blida league, won the team event in front of the Alger league and the Tiaret league. About 50 archers were on the shooting line of this event honored by the Vice-President of the Fédération Algérienne de Tir Sportif (FTAS), and the Mayor of Blida city who keeps supporting our sport.

The event knew an unprecedented passion from the guests and spectators. The emergence of new talents among the youth was noted. Due to the progress in the organisation and the level of the participants, the organiser, Mr. Abdelkader BENIA from the Blida club, considers registering the 3rd edition of the Golden Arrow on the FITA calendar, in order to give an international dimension to this event.

Cameroon Shooting Federation organises an Archery Event in Douala

The Cameroon Shooting Federation organised an archery event in the city of Douala from 15-17 January 2010. More than 200 participants attended. The majority came from the youth division or the army; a great number of women and a para-archer also took part in this event. Twenty archery coaches assisted the Technical Director of the Cameroon Shooting Federation for this competition in order to develop the national coaching structure.

Every day of this event started with a warm-up followed by shooting ends with bamboo bows, followed by ends with a recurve bow. The competition could then start. To everyone's great surprise, the women archery team (right) defeated the men's team in this competition!

This unique event captured the attention of the local media: it was covered by eight TV channels, local radios as well as private newspapers. The media feedback was positive and stated that archery is a discipline accessible to all. The Cameroon Shooting Federation was contacted by many regional departments willing to organise similar events in their region. The next event will take place in Limbé, a city located in the South-West of Cameroon, close to the sea and to Mount Cameroon.

Rules

Interpretation

Book 4, article 9.3.1.4 and Book 5, article 11.10.3.4.1

The Norwegian Archery Federation has requested an interpretation on whether a longbow can be a take down bow.

The Constitution and Rules Committee finds the question presented to be within terms of reference of the Technical Committee.

The Constitution and Rules Committee has determined that the following interpretation of the Technical Committee is not contrary to the existing rules or Congress decisions.

Response from the Technical Committee:

A Longbow is described under athletes' equipment in Book 4 , article 9.3.1.4 and Book 5, article 11.10.3.4.1 as follows: "The bow will correspond to the traditional form of a long bow..." A majority of the Technical Committee has concluded that a takedown bow which meets this requirement when assembled is a longbow for purposes of these articles. As long as the bow has the traditional form of a longbow as is currently allowed in various FITA competitions, and does not deviate from this principle, the Technical Committee believes that a takedown longbow is acceptable.

FITA Technical Committee, 5 February 2010

Approved by the FITA C&R Committee, 11 February 2010

Constitution & Rules Book

You can find on www.worldarchery.org, under the menu Rules/Constitution & Rules Book, the new version of the rules book which includes all the changes since the Leipzig and Ulsan Congresses and which will be in effect on 1 April 2010. An errata list will be available on 1 March which will show the last corrections.

The C&R Committee will now together with the Office and a workgroup undertake a full restructuring of the rule book so that it will be easier accessible for all readers. However for practical reasons this is the actual version of the rule book and should be used by all involved until the next version will be available.

Clarification on Set System and Scorecards

As of 1 April, archers will have to win two or three sets to win their matches! You will find on www.worldarchery.org, menu News/Archives 2010 a summary on the new Set System valid as of 1 April 2010 for all outdoor competitions. These articles describing what has been approved at the FITA Congress Ulsan 2009 have been published in the new Rules Book 2010.
